

Stacey Schultz-Cherry PhD is a member (Professor) in the department of Infectious Diseases at St Jude Children's Research Hospital. Her research focuses on the pathogenesis of influenza and astroviruses in high risk populations and spans basic research to countermeasures, co-infections, and global surveillance in animals, birds and people.